Autoblogging to make profits

Have you found out about autoblogging? if you have ever tried autoblogging, you have possibly been incredibly disappointed. Whether you use 'caffeinated content, Robotic WordPress Plugin or Auto-blog poster system, you will have quickly realised that they don't work that well. It's of no significance how many sites you buy, or how carefully you choose your keywords, or even how hard you try to create backlinks to them, you are not making any money. You have also probably figured out why this is. If you're still scratching your bonce, here's why. It's because every single automatic blogging product (with one exception - <http://www.snapcontent.com autoblogging>) uses 'duplicated content '. And search websites, particularly Google, HATE duplicate content. It does not matter whether your autoblogging system scrapes Yahoo Answers, or borrows from some article catalog or other, or 'repurposes ' PLR articles or forum postings - it's all copied content and not merely will it NOT earn you any money, it will probably get your sites proscribed by Google. The merchants of these older auto-blogging systems know this, and that's why they usually let you 'uniqueify ' the text using daft bits of script that change letters for HTML control codes (which does Nothing apart from warn the search engines that you are making an attempt to 'fool ' them). Some even provide options to translate your autoblog posts out of English and back again, and this is much worse, because it introduces syntax blunders that raise the search engine 'warning flag '. Some use inadequate 'spyntax ' systems that try and make your content unique by replacing words with a lexicon. To the search engines, of course, the ensuing errors make your blog look precisely as if it was either written by a baboon smacking the keyboard with a mallet, or it was created by a kind of hopeful 'black hatter ' who doesn't actually speak the English language. And the single thing Google hates more than reused content, is of course, blackhatters attempting to conceal the proven truth that they have got nada but duplicate content. So what is the answer? Is it really possible to build a blog instantly, and make cash with it? Yes! Snapcontent is the most amazing autoblogging tool ever made, and the sole auto-blogging tool that won't unnecessarily fill up your autoblogs with dupe content. In Thirty seconds, your blogs can be posting new text on any topic you like. The content looks nearly as good as most hand written blog articles, and even convinces human surfers that this is a 'real ' blog, not a 'splog '. Better if you join up now, we'll chuck in the incredible Snapcontent 'comment ' poster that immediately posts important comments on your blogs! To a search engine, the number 2 evidence that you are running a splog is no relevant comments. This dazzling bonus solves that problem right away! How does autoblogging work? Easy. Download the extension, load it in your Wordpress enhancements directory, and set two options , such as your target keyphrases. Then all you've got to do is relax. You can set Snapcontent to post each day if you like, and you'll be astounded by the standard of the posts it offers you. You get One thousand posts a month to distribute around as many blogs as you like, and you may NEVER see an identical post ever. Right now, you can try it out free for 5 days, and if you do not like it, just can your Paypal subscription which means it will not have cost you a penny. You can even keep the content and comments it has posted to your autoblogs in that time period, with our compliments. The plugin is not protected with encryption. Actually you should not upload encrypted code to your blogs because you haven't got any idea what it is going to do to your internet server. Hint - most keyloggers are introduced in this way. The system instantly detects when you demand a kind of content we cannot now provide, and within 48 hours, if support agree that your subject is valid, we'll make posts available for it. Here's an example of an automatic blog made with Snapcontent. <http://www.supadiet.com> This demonstration blog is so plausible over Two hundred folk every month try and post comments on it (it does not take comments - it doesn't have to because Snapcontent automatically commentss it). Unlike previous autoblogs, Snapcontent Autoblogs are so superb, you can not only utilize them as 'PR funnels ' to drive traffic and pagerank to your 'money ' internet site, you may also monetize them without delay with affiliate offers, CPA deals and such like. As Wordpress blogs 'auto ping ', you'll rapidly start getting back links and trackbacks automatically, which will cause your traffic volume to increase naturally. As they appear to be real blogs too, other people will backlink to you over time in a completely natural way, and that, naturally, is when the search sites start to treat you with respect. Even better, if you leave the 'guest post ' option enabled, your backlinks will start to appear automatically on zillions of other site, spread across endless IPs and websites at no extra cost! In turn, your blogs will occasionally post a link cited by another Snapcontent member in your niche that has the added advantage of making your own blog look even more 'natural '.
